Declaration of private customer

Pursuant to Norway's money laundering regulations, the bank is required to know who its customers are. This means it needs information on the customer and their use of the bank. We would therefore request that this form be completed. Please note that the bank may request further information and documentation in addition to that covered here. The bank cannot establish a new personal account until the documentation is in order.

Furthermore, the bank is legally required to update its information and documentation continuously for the duration of the customer relationship.

All information is treated in confidence and in accordance with the Norwegian Data Protection Act.

Please read the guidelines on the final page before filling out the self-declaration.

VIII. Guidance and definitions

Politically exposed person

A politically exposed person is a person who holds or has held a position or an office such as:

1. a Head of State, a Head of government, a minister or a deputy minister
2. a member of a national assembly
3. a member of the governing body of a political party
4. a member of a higher court which makes decisions which only exceptionally may be appealed
5. a member of the board of an auditor general, court of auditors or central bank
6. an ambassador, chargé d'affaires or high-ranking military officer
7. a member of an administrative, managerial or controlling body in a state-owned undertaking
8. a senior executive, director or other person in the top management of an international organisation

Immediate family member

An immediate family member means a parent, a spouse, a registered or unregistered partner and a child, as well as the spouse or registered or unregistered partner of a child.

Close associate

1. is a beneficial owner of a legal entity, association or foreign legal arrangement jointly with the politically exposed person
2. has a close business relationship with the politically exposed person
3. is the sole beneficial owner of a legal entity, association or foreign legal arrangement which in reality has been established to benefit the politically exposed person.

Why do we ask for the reason you are to hold or transfer money on behalf of others?

Pursuant to the Norwegian Money Laundering Act, you must reveal the identity of someone who is the owner of money you are holding or transferring.

Account-holder

Every person who is registered or identified as an owner of or who exercises control over a financial account or other financial product in a financial institution.

CRS

CRS is an abbreviation for the Common Reporting Standard, which has been established by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) as an international framework for exchanging information between the tax authorities in the respective countries.

An official list of countries which have adopted the CRS is published on the OECD website at <http://www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange/international-framework-for-the-crs/> (<http://www.oecd.org/tax/automatic-exchange/international-framework-for-the-crs/>), under List of CRS MCAA signatories.

FATCA

FATCA is an abbreviation for the US Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, which aims to identify US citizens or enterprises with financial assets outside the USA.

Tax resident

You are regarded as a tax resident of the countries where you have tax liabilities pursuant to the domestic legislation of the relevant countries. You can be a tax resident of several countries. You are a tax resident of the USA if you have a valid residence or work permit. If you have questions about where you are resident for tax purposes, consult a tax adviser or a local tax office.

US citizen

If you are a US citizen, you are a tax resident of the USA (including people with dual citizenship). If you were born in the USA, you are a US citizen unless you have actively repudiated citizenship.

Tax identification number (TIN)

The TIN or equivalent is a unique number issued to both individuals and companies by the tax authorities for identification. Not all countries issue a TIN, but have other kinds of numbers for identification. For Norwegian individuals, their TIN is usually their personal identification number. More detailed information on each country's TIN can be found on the OECD website.
